

Alternate Proxy Instructions

In certain circumstances, you may need to use these alternate proxy instructions to access library resources. These instructions are not device specific and will work on all devices.

1. Open your favorite web browser and navigate to <https://online.uchc.edu/login> as shown below:

2. Choose the link depending on whether you have a UConn Health e-mail or a Library barcode.
3. Once you successfully enter your login information, you will see this window:

4. You may navigate to the library website by opening a new tab or using the tab currently open. Do not close the browser window or you will lose proxy access to our resources.
5. You will now have access to library resources, including databases and full-text articles.
6. If you close the browser window before you are finished, you will need to re-authenticate through the proxy, by following steps 1-3.
